

Oupiin is currently in the process of switching all products to RoHS Compliant. We will continue to ship standard Non-RoHS compliant products from our stocking locations in the USA, Taiwan and China. As inventories are depleted we will be replacing all products with RoHS Compliant product and will ship the RoHS product automatically as it becomes available. If you have a customer that must have the Non-RoHS Compliant product, you must inform us when the order is placed. The RoHS products will be identified by a /SN on the end of the part number until all Non-RoHS product has been depleted, at which time the /SN will be dropped from the part number. The shipping containers will be identified with a RoHS label. We hope to have the RoHS conversion completed by July time frame.

In the future when we are completely RoHS Compliant and your customer wants the Non-RoHS Compliant we will be able to quote, but product may be subject to minimums and may have a different pricing structure. This product will also be Non-Cancelable and Non-Returnable.

Thank you
